Hartmann, Blackmon & Kilgore Announces 2011 Internship Recipients

Hartmann, Blackmon & Kilgore PC, one of the Gulf Coast's leading CPA and business consulting firms, announced today that Dallas Jordan and William Cink have been selected as interns for the firm's spring internship program.

Ms. Jordan is a graduate of Troy University with a Bachelor of Science in Accounting. While at Troy, her leadership and academic performance were recognized with admittance to the Delta Mu Delta Honor Society, the Alpha Lambda Delta Honor Society and the Delta Epsilon Iota Honor Society. She was awarded the Troy University Leadership Scholarship, the Alfred Shell Endowment Scholarship, the Frank Sims and Sarah Smith Anderson Endowment Scholarship and the Sound of the South Scholarship. While maintaining a 3.25 GPA, Ms. Jordan served as the Vice President of the Troy University Accounting Society and the 2010 Captain of the Sound of the South Majorettes. Her previous experience includes serving as a Legislative House of Representatives Intern for the Alabama Law Institute.

Mr. Cink earned both a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration/Finance and a Bachelor of Science in Accounting from the University of Mobile. An accomplished trumpet player, he was also awarded a scholarship to pursue Music as a minor. Mr. Cink's professional background includes experience with accounting firms and banks. A graduate of the Southern Trust School's three-year training program, Mr. Cink has specialized knowledge of trust administration and worked in Region Bank's Trust Department for several years. He will sit for the state of Alabama's CPA exam later this year.
